144 Western Ave.
Telephone 437—Brattleboro, Vt.—On car lineGETTYSBURG MAP
FOR SMALL AMOUNTGeological Survey Will Sell Topographic Map of Famous Battlefield and Its Vicinity.

To meet the demand for an accurate map of Gettysburg and vicinity during the great memorial celebration which will be held at that historic point beginning June 25-30 years after the commencement of the terrific fight which sealed the fate of the hitherto sanguine Confederacy—the United States Geological Survey has combined four of its topographic sheets and printed a large map. The map covers about 925 square miles, including the Gettysburg battlefield and the adjacent portion of Pennsylvania as well as the adjoining portion of Maryland, and is of the ample scale of one mile to the inch. It shows accurately the size and shape of the mountains and ranges, and by means of contour or elevation lines the exact altitudes of every hill, slope, valley and pass. All the roads by which Lee brought his main army in from the West are shown, and the course pursued by the Army of the Potomac under Hooker and later under Meade can be readily traced. Such familiar bloody fighting grounds as Little Round Top, the Wheatfield, and the Peach Orchard are shown in their exact topography almost as clearly as in a bird-eye photograph, as is also the ground over which Pickett's division of 18,000 men, the flower of the South, made its famous but futile charge on July 3, 1863, which accomplished its probable purpose of deterring Meade from following up his victory with a pursuit of Lee's shattered columns.

Such a map would have been worth a thousand times its weight in diamonds to either of the commanding Generals at the battle of Gettysburg, where the fate of their great armies and probably of the Union and the Confederacy hung on the issue of a day. The survey on which the map is based was made in co-operation with the Pennsylvania State Topographic and Geological Survey, commission and the Geological Survey of Maryland. This map can be obtained from the United States Geological Survey. The regular price is 40 cents a copy, but by special authority granted by the secretary of the interior it will be delivered postage free in a mailing tube until July 1, 1913, at 20 cents a copy. Remittances should be made to the Director, United States Geological Survey, Washington, D. C., in cash or money order.

MAY OPERATE ON
HEART WITH EASEDr. Alexis Carrel, Eminent Surgeon, Makes Striking Statements in Lecture at French Capital.

PARIS, June 14.—The following very interesting statements, some of which are considered striking by the leading lights of French medical science, were made by Dr. Alexis Carrel of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, New York, at his first official lecture at the Paul Beaumont hospital.

Doctor Carrel announced that he was now able to operate in the chest cavity with as much ease and safety as in the abdomen.

"It is now a simple cut he said, and we open the thorax and operate upon the lungs, heart and aorta as we treat the kidneys and the intestines. We know also just how much the brain, the spinal cord, and the heart can stand as regards the temporary anæsthetics required by the operation."

"The heart suffers very little from interrupted circulation as long as care is taken that it has enough oxygen, and it may be stopped for five or ten minutes without danger; while in the spinal marrow, the circulation may be stopped as long as 20 minutes."

"For the lungs, however, four minutes is the limit of safety, and after five it is very difficult to restore normal conditions."

A huge field of work remained, he said in conclusion, to be done as regards operations upon the human heart, and the study of those was of the greatest possible importance. This was especially true of surgery for aneurisms and the shrinking of the aorta or pulmonary arteries.

The lecture was received with great enthusiasm.

LOSS $7,000 in WALLINGFORD.

Fire of Unknown Origin Destroys Sawmill at Greendale Village.

RITLAND, June 14.—The large sawmill property known as Greendale, near East Wallingford, was completely wiped out by fire yesterday afternoon. The loss is estimated at $7,000, only a few hundred dollars of which is covered by insurance. The property was owned by Frank E. Orsmond of East Wallingford and Massachusetts parties.

The origin of the fire is unknown. It was discovered on the main floor at noon and the one stream of water available had no effect, the flames soon spreading to the dryhouse containing $800 worth of charcoal. New machinery was recently installed throughout the mill and is rendered worthless. This was the only industry in the hamlet, and it is not believed that the mill will be rebuilt.

ARSON ATTEMPTED AT KEENE.

Firebug Fails in Effort to Destroy
L. J. Colony Chair Shop.

KEENE, N. H., June 14.—An attempt was made during Thursday night to fire the building of the L. J. Colony Chair company on Commercial street. Fortunately the papers which were soaked with some inflammable substance burned without setting fire to any part of the building.

The building is 130 feet long and 60 feet wide and contained a large stock of chairs. The attempt, following so close to the $10,000 fire at the Beaver Mills yard, Thursday afternoon, causes many to believe that the Beaver Mills property was fired.

POWER CO. BEYOND
CONSTRUCTION STAGECircuit Covering Central Massachusetts
Perfected Next Month—Negotiating Large Contract.

The hydro-electric lines of the New England Power Co., whose system, in view of stock ownership and the recent dividend guarantees to the Connecticut River Power Co., now plainly comprehends that company's lines, are themselves about to emerge from being primarily in their construction period. Next month the new cross-state transmission line from the Shelburne Falls dams will be opened for approximately 60 miles, to Millbury, a little south of Worcester.

This connection from the Deerfield River valley generating plants of the New England Power Co. will complete a loop service covering all central Massachusetts, and will round out the line of the Connecticut River Power Co. and greatly augment its capacity. It was about three months ago that the New England Power Co. plants were first linked up with the Connecticut River Power Co. line, near its starting point in southern Vermont, and that physical connection has been noticeably reflected in the business of the older line.

The Connecticut River Power Co. recorded $34,000 gross sales in 1912, while the affiliated companies are in fact now earning at the rate of $700,000 gross per annum. The annual $3 semi-annual dividend was paid on Connecticut River Power Co.'s $500,000 preferred stock last week, and on July 1 semi-annual dividends of its $2,700,000 common will be inaugurated.

Although the New England Power Co. is pushing forward to completion next fall the immense storage reservoir at Somerset, Vt., and is building its so-called No. 5 dam (the final development near Shelburne Falls), no further financing is planned in the near future supplementing the $1,500,000 block of preferred stock which was marketed several months ago. The New England Power Co.'s financing so far has included a $3,500,000 5 per cent 40-year bond issue and $2,500,000 6 per cent preferred stock.

With the operation of the line to Millbury, the financing done to date by the New England and Connecticut River power companies will have opened up for continuous delivery to large commercial and municipal customers 50,000 horsepower of energy. When further construction now under way with proceeds of this financing is completed, 70,000 horsepower are expected to be similarly available.

Through the good offices of Charles L. Edgar as arbitrator, a 30-year agreement is being negotiated between Providence, the Narragansett Electric Light Co., which to that city is what the Edison Co. of which Mr. Edgar is president, is to Boston, and the Rhode Island Transmission Co., owned by the New England Power Co. This will enable a sharp competitive campaign by the latter interests to secure entrance on favorable terms to the intensive Rhode Island manufacturing district, and they will thereby become whole-salers of power to the Narragansett Co.'s customers. INVESTIGATING MURDER OF CHILDOrange County Authorities Have Been Busy Probing Crime Near Waits River.

RANDOLPH, June 14.—Orange county authorities are investigating an alleged child murder said to have been committed near Waits River. A quiet hunt for evidence in the case is said to have been going on for several days under the direction of State's Attorney Frank S. Williams of Bradford, who is aided by Sheriff Edward Kent of Randolph and others. The crime is alleged to have been committed sometime last February. It is said, and at a recent session of the Orange county grand jury at Chelsea, an exhaustive examination of the facts was conducted.

According to unofficial versions of the alleged crime a young child was put to death sometime last February in the little hamlet of Waits River, located within the town lines of Topsfield. Several weeks, indeed, months elapsed before the affair reached the Orange county authorities, but no sooner was the rumor partially substantiated, as it is said, that the state's attorney and his assistants were busy on the investigation. Dr. H. B. Stone and Dr. Whitcomb of the state laboratory at Burlington were called to Waits River. Wednesday, so the story goes, and near the settlement in a patch of woods, the body of a child was exhumed under the direction of State's Attorney Williams. The remains were found to be fairly well preserved and when the physicians returned to Burlington they took the body back with them for further examination.

It is understood that certain persons are being held for the further action of the county officers. Since the rumors leaked out, a thorough search for evidence has been conducted and once the trail led into the city of Barre, where someone who is said to know something about the affair, formerly resided.

DEWITT ELECTED DIRECTOR.

Honored By National Association of Wholesale Grocers.

D. P. DeWitt was elected a director of the National Association of Wholesale Grocers at a recent meeting at Atlantic City. This association is one of the most prosperous of its kind in the United States and the honor came to Mr. DeWitt entirely unsolicited. He was not present at the convention. He has, however, been very active in the affairs of the trade in New England and will be a valuable man on the board of directors.

"Over She Goes!"

(Boston Herald.)

Vice-President Marshall, whose public utterances always attract attention, has introduced a phrase in parliamentary procedure likely to become classic. A dignified senator arises in that most august legislative body and moves that the measure under consideration be allowed to "go over" until Monday next. The presiding officer calls for a vote. The senator's motion is sustained. The cry is heard from the rostrum, "Over she goes."

The full effect of this laconic clause can only be gained by seeing its maker. He has a posture all his own. He slouches down so far in his chair as to have to use his knees, pressed up against the desk, and on a level with his chin, to keep from slipping to the floor. His hands are folded behind the back of his head and his jaws are moving a choice brand of fine cut.

On assuming the duties of his solemn office, Mr. Marshall likened the body over which he was called to preside to the blinders of a horse. It is possible that these would be a useful adjunct just now for human visitors to that chamber. It is, at all events, no wonder that he thought of them.

URGES BALLOT
BE GIVEN WOMENSenate Committee Recommends Bill for Constitutional Amendment in This Direction.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Senator Ashurst has submitted the report of the women's suffrage committee recommending passage of the Chamberlain resolution for a constitutional amendment extending suffrage to women.

"In this republic," says the report, "the people constitute the government. They are its creators and its maintainers; they are the government. That the granting of the elective franchise to women would add to the strength, efficiency, justice and fairness of government we have not the slightest doubt. It is anomalous and archaic, in a free republic, professedly made up of, controlled by and administered for all the people, to deny to one-half of its citizens the right of exercising a valuable function of citizenship, to wit, the elective franchise, thus precluding that one-half from the right and power to say what law or policy shall be its rule of conduct. And this anomaly becomes odious and abhorrent when we reflect that the particular half of citizenship thus excluded is the identical one-half from which springs so much wisdom, courage, cheer, hope and good counsel."

The report sets forth that the things to be considered in granting equal franchise are whether women as a class will vote whenever full opportunity is offered; attempt to comprehend the questions upon which they vote; attempt to learn something of the character and fitness of the persons for whom they vote; vote against dishonest persons for office; oppose dishonest measures; refuse, directly or indirectly, to give a bribe; place country above party; recognize the result of the election as the will of the people; and therefore as the law and continue to fight for a righteous, although defeated cause so long as there is a reasonable hope of success.

"We submit," the report concludes, "that the class of voters sought to be enfranchised by this resolution answers each and every one of these interrogatories with distinguished credit to itself and that it fully, fairly and in good faith measures up to these requirements. We, therefore, upon all grounds, conclude that the resolution should be submitted to the states for their adoption or ratification."

Senator Ashurst said he would use forceful energies to secure a vote on the resolution at the special session, but that he would not press it in such a way to arouse opposition or interfere with tariff legislation.
